A VANISHED HAND.
We sigh for the touch of a vanished hand—
The hand of a friend now dead.
Who has passed from our side to the shadowy land, But, what of the hand that is near?
To the living touch is the soul's heart.
That weeps over the silent grief.
For the love that lives in our hands more swift To make some sweet return.
For a little beyond their sphere,
That to give for a truly helpful life—
The burden some one must bear?

We sigh for the touch of a vanished hand,
And we think of the hand that is near.
And the touch of the hand that is near?

THE MODERN REMEDY.
Has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy, than by any other. Children enjoy it and it benefits them. The true remedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

We Are Thankful!

For the fine trade we have enjoyed so far this fall, and would be grateful for a continuance of same throughout the winter months. Our patrons may rejoice that there is a Shoe Store in this town which gives value received with each purchase and whose liberality promises such substantial additional rewards.

A LEXINGTON citizen writes to the paragraphs on the walls and fences of his remedy?" Well, as the parents and police are impotent, how would a baseball bat do?

Why can't public officials be honest?

STUART R. YOUNG, City Treasurer of Louisville, blew his brains out because his accounts were some $50,000 short. He was a son of Colonel BENNETT H. YOUNG, the well known Democratic politician, and a grandson and namesake of the late

Rev. Dr. STUART ROBINSON, one of the most eminent Baptist Ministers in the country.

Is his annual report the Secretary of War makes this reference to the anti-Canteen Law.

"When the orders were issued for the enforcement of this section of the law, the commanding officers of the various Posts and military organizations were directed to report upon its effects. A great body of reports has been received, which indicate that the effect of the law is unfortunate."

However, these officers in command of the various Posts where the Canteen has been abolished do not know half as much about the matter as do the impracticable temperance cranks who never saw an Army Post, wouldn't know a Canteen if they should fall over it in the road, and who never drank anything stronger than whisky back door at home.

"PAYNTER'S" DESERTING OPINION.

In dissenting from the opinion of the Court of Appeals in the Pratt-Breckinridge contest, Chief Justice Paynter regards the judgment as "revolutionary and so it is. But it is that class of revolutions in which the right prevails and injustice is sent howling to the rear. It is revolutionary in the sense that it has restored to the people of Kentucky the man whom they elected to the office of Attorney General in 1899, and who had been ousted from the office by a Board of Election Commissioners, composed of three Goebel Democrats, vested with judicial powers to hear and to determine the contests for state offices, notwithstanding the peremptory prohibition in the Kentucky Constitution against the creation of bodies with judicial powers other than the Courts provided in the Constitution itself.

Chief Justice Paynter is, of the opinion that the judgment of the Court of Appeals is "far-reaching." The Chief

judgment goes back behind the gross frauds of 1899, and, reaching the ballot-box, restores it to its rightful place in a free Commonwealth. It reaches back to the people and confirms them in their right to say who shall or who shall not be their officials, and that that right shall neither be overthrown nor questioned. The Chief Justice regards the opinion of the Court of Appeals as one of that character that brings reproach upon Courts, but is mistaken. It has simply wiped away the reproach on Kentucky because of the rape of the Goebel Election Law, concerning which Henry Watterson—the chief educator of the people—has written:

of Kentucky Democrats—said that "it left nothing whatever to chance."

Chief Justice Paynter will himself be a candidate for re-election to the Court of Appeals next year, and will be entitled to have every ballot cast for him counted for him—but the Court of Appeals, in the Pratt-Breckinridge case, has just said, in effect, that the frauds of 1899 shall not be repeated in Kentucky, and if the Chief Justice is returned to the Court it will be with a clear title to the office which the state official of Kentucky, save Judge Pratt, now has.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL NOTES.

Great Progress Made of Late in the Work in Mason County.

The Sunday-school work in Mason county, beginning with September 23, 1901, and ending November 17, 1901, has been indeed gratifying to all persons interested in Sunday-school work.

During a period of less than two months, eight Magisterial District Conventions were held, and officers elected; one County Convention held in which nearly every school in the county was represented, and about twenty Ministers present. In addition to this, one only meeting was held at Millersburg on November 17th, which was largely attended and in which great interest was manifested.

This, we think, is a beginning of the grand awakening of the Sunday-school cause in Mason county. The persons who have been chosen to fill the offices in the county organization, and the Magisterial District organizations, have been chosen for the reason that they are thought to be workers, tried and true, in this great cause, and who will never turn back now that they have taken this work in the Church.

It is the desire of the Executive Committee and the officers of the county organization, that the Magisterial District officers arrange, as soon as possible, for a house-to-house canvass or visitation of each family in these Districts. For this purpose blanks will be furnished and full instruction given as to how the work should be conducted.

This work was done in Mason county about five years ago, every two years done at least once every two years in order that the statistics, which are desired, may be secured.

We earnestly request all Superintendents in the county to send their names and address to the Court of Appeals, Maysville, Ky., who is the County Secretary, and to the County Secretary, who is enrolled on the county directory, which we contemplate getting up in the near future.

RAIN-FOOD NONSENSE.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have disputed the old axiom that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet is one that contains a particular part of the body, but it will contain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutritive is destroyed by indigestion or diarrhoea. You must prepare for their
